Alberta Blockchain Summit

September 12, 2019

The Blockchain Summit is a technology conference that takes an in-depth look at blockchain and how it is being used in industry sectors, from energy and agriculture to financial services.

Industry experts and government come together for one day to share their insights into the power of this transformative technology, including Matthew Burgoyne, head of McLeod Law's Cryptocurrency & Blockchain group. He will moderate the panel, "Trust in Tokens: Regulating Blockchain Securities", discussing the issues impacting trade in the field of blockchain-based securities. Investors will learn how to navigate new financial products such as security tokens.

The Blockchain Summit is the marquee event of Alberta Blockchain Week, and is proudly sponsored by McLeod Law.
