

NEWS

McLeod Law becomes one of the first law firms in Canada to accept cryptocurrency

September 25, 2018

McLeod Law is pleased to announce that it is one of the first law firms in Canada to accept payment for legal services in cryptocurrency. Led by Matthew Burgoyne of our Cryptocurrency & Blockchain group, McLeod Law is now making this option available to select clients as an alternative payment method. See the story published in CanadianLawyer.

Using Coinsquare, a cryptocurrency exchange provider, we were able to securely accept our first payment in Bitcoin. The Coinsquare platform allows us to securely accept Bitcoin, Bitcoin Cash, Ether and other digital currencies. McLeod Law has been active in Canada's digital currency community since 2013, at a time when the industry was in the early days and just starting to take shape.

For more resources on Fintech and Cryptocurrency, see our Cryptocurrency & Blockchain webpage.

Through our TAGLaw network, international resources are available on the TAGLaw Blockchain & Cryptocurrency Knowledge Centre.