

NEWS

TAGLaw Western Regional Conference on the Cannabis Industry

March 7, 2019

McLeod Law is host to the 2019 TAGLaw Western Regional Conference on the heels of its newly unveiled brand identity and website launch.

The conference is focused on the Cannabis industry and will see 35+ lawyers arriving from across Canada and the United States. They will gather to discuss the interplays of the Cannabis industry and the laws between Canada and the United States.

Maria Nathanail, head of the McLeod Law Cannabis Group will be speaking along with Patrick Cummins, cannabis and securities lawyer with Blaney McMurtry in Toronto, Ontario. The discussions will be moderated by Brent Cooper, business litigation lawyer and McLeod Law representative for TAGLaw.

The conference is being held in the beautiful setting of the Rocky Mountains at Fairmont Banff Springs Hotel from March 7-9, 2019.

Robin Lokhorst and Brent Cooper are the McLeod Law representatives of TAGLaw.