

NEWS

McLeod Law named one of Canadian HR Reporter's Best Places to Work 2021

October 7, 2021

McLeod Law is honoured to be named one of Canadian HR Reporter's Best Places to Work 2021. Inclusion in this inaugural report is determined by an employee survey recognizing organizations as an employer of choice based on company culture, diversity, employee engagement, and employee programs.

"We strive to ensure McLeod Law is a top employer, not for the award or recognition, but for our people who are the backbone of our firm," said Robin Lokhorst, Managing Partner at McLeod Law. "We will keep listening to our people's ideas and suggestions to improve the firm's programs and practices and constantly seek to enhance our culture."

You can read the online feature published by the Canadian HR Reporter here.