

NEWS

McLeod Law welcomes two new Articling Students

July 19, 2017

We are pleased to announce our 2017/2018 articling students, Aman Sran and Charlotte Hall.

Aman is a graduate of the McGill University, integrated Common Law and Civil Law program. During her legal studies she volunteered at the McGill Legal Information Clinic, assisting community members with their legal questions. She continues to work as a volunteer with the Children's Legal & Educational Resource Centre.

Charlotte is a graduate of Thompson Rivers, Faculty of Law in Kamloops, BC. During law school she co-founded and was Vice President of Canadian Lawyers for International Human Rights, Thompson Rivers University chapter, a charity promoting international human rights.

To learn more about Aman and Charlotte please visit please click here.

If you're interested in becoming an articling student at McLeod Law LLP, please click here for more information about our culture and application process.