Film, Television, and Media

Alberta's film industry is gaining international recognition, covering a wide range of productions from big-budget feature films to streaming series and documentaries. With the recent allocation of $100 million over three years to the Film and Television Tax Credit (FTTC) and an additional $4 million to the Alberta Made Production Grant, the funding available for productions of all sizes has significantly increased. This presents a unique opportunity for international film studios to leverage Alberta's captivating backdrops, stunning urban environments, and majestic landscapes.

We understand the intricacies of the film, television and media industry in our home province and are dedicated to ensuring your success. Our services encompass a wide range of legal needs, including developing effective strategies to secure tax credits and grants, assisting with incorporation, managing cast and crew employment and freelance agreements, negotiating production services and co-production agreements, handling clearances, releases, financing agreements, and licenses. By entrusting your legal matters to us, you can focus on the creative aspects of your project while ensuring it progresses smoothly and stays on schedule and within budget.

Our clients' recent projects included:

- This Too Shall Pass: Directed by Rob Grant
- The Order: Directed by Justin Kurzel. With Jude Law, Nicholas Hoult, and Tye Sheridan
- Dark Nature: Directed by Berkley Brady
